The Public School Curriculum Now Being Checked Up.

The public school curriculum now in vogue in Alberta is to be taken under careful consideration again by the committee appointed by the government, which meets on Wednesday of this week for a two-day session. It is five years since the committee met, its sittings of 1921 and 1922 having taken form in a revision of the study courses that has since been on trial in actual school practice. The results are now to be checked up with a view to ascertaining what further changes, if any, may be desirable.

A variety of organizations interested in the educational in the educational question are represented on the committee, which is made up as follows: G. A. Clayton, representing the Teachers' Alliance; H. Spicer and C. Lepard, Alberta Educational Association; Dr A. M. Scott, superintendent of schools; E. Roper, Alberta Federation of Labor; J T J Collison, National Council of Education; John W Russell, Inspector of schools; Mrs R B Gunn, U F W A; H E G Scholefield, U F A; Dr J H Part, urban trustees; Mrs W C Short, rural trustees; Mrs M M Rogers, women's institutes; John Howey and J E Wedell, the press.

Substantial improvement in the curriculum, in the way particularly of simplification and reduction, was made as an outcome of the committee's work five years ago, but it is understood that further changes for the better are likely to be suggested at this week's meeting.

Where Canada Leads the World

Canada exports more wheat than any other country in the world. It produces most of the world's silver and nickel. Within the last two years it has passed the United States in the production of newspaper. It is one of the greatest exporters in the world. Isolated facts, such as those, are becoming common knowledge amongst Canadians, but it is difficult if not yet, they fully appreciate the gigantic strides made by the Dominion in gaining a position of first importance among the trading nations of the world.

The jubilee year of Confederation is a good time to take stock of our national achievements, not that we should become boastful as a people, but as an encouragement, and an incentive to still greater things. It has been charged that Canadians suffer from an inferiority complex; that we are more inclined to belittle our country and its possibilities than to boast of them; that, as a consequence, we are apt to entertain doubts and be fearful of the future instead of displaying confidence and courage.

It is a good thing, therefore, to sometimes get a glimpse of ourselves as others see us. There is inspiration in such tributes as the following:

The National Foreign Trade Council of New York, in a recent statement, says Canada has led all nations in increase of external trade since 1913, with an increase of 85 per cent, as compared with Australia's 45 per cent, and 31 per cent for the United States.

The League of Nations Bureau recently issued a report showing that Canada's per capita wealth had grown from $1,100 in 1900 to $2,406 in 1936—a record unequalled by any other nation in history.

The National Bureau of Research of the United States recently published the results of 17 years' trading, showing that Canada had enjoyed more rapidly than any other nation.

During the years covered by these statements, the Western Provinces of Canada have been transformed from being a vast area, with a sparse population and a meagre production, into a community of over two million people and with an agricultural production of such magnitude as to command the attention of the whole world, and constituting a factor to be reckoned with in all the world markets.

The development of the West has had its effect on the rest of Canada, as is well recognized, but Western people possibly do not fully appreciate the rapid growth and development which has taken place in the older provinces in the east. Manufacturing production in Canada has grown from 211 millions of dollars in 1901 to 1,311 millions in 1930, and in export of manufactured products expanded in the same time by 2,729 per cent. Today Canada exports some millions of dollars worth of manufactured goods more than she imports; a complete reversal of the situation as recently as five years ago.

Canadian manufacturers are beginning to profit from the lessons of the past. They realize that the people of Canada as a whole will not stand for protective tariffs so high that they are prohibitive, and that the tendency is in the direction of lower rather than higher tariff. They now know they must rely on something more than a protective tariff to ensure success and make profits. As they have scrapped many obsolete machinery, have adopted improved manufacturing methods, have not only cultivated the market, but have also increased their output.

They are beginning to appreciate the wisdom and strength of a Canadian policy of negotiating trade treaties with other countries, and to recognize and accept the fact that international trade cannot be all one-sided; that, in a word, if Canada is to sell largely in foreign markets, she must, in turn, buy in those markets. Canada's manufacturers and financiers are also, to an increasing extent, investing in the development of the natural resources of the Dominion instead of relying on the importation of raw and semi-manufactured materials which the Dominion itself can supply.

It is because of a growing recognition and application of these truths that Canada is today leading the world in the growth and development of external trade.

Empire Mining Congress

Delegates From All Parts of the World to Meet in Montreal.

Nearly seven hundred delegates have registered at the Montreal headquarters for the second Triennial Empire Mining Congress which is to be held in Canada, August 22 to September 28 next. Great Britain is sending 300 delegates of both sexes and United States about 100. India, the Federated Malay States, Palestine, most of the different countries that make up the Continent of Africa, Australia, New Zealand, Tasmania, and all the principal European countries will be represented. The Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy is the convening body for the Congress.

Norse Convention

Arrangements are already under way for the big Norse convention to be held in Winnipeg next year. Preliminary estimates of the attendance places it at 25,000.

More Hungarians Will Emigrate to Canada

New Settlers Are All Accustomed to Farm Work

From March of this year until October, the number of Hungarian immigrants to be settled in Western Canada by the Canadian Hungarian Colonization Board will number about 2,500, according to Dr. J. Ujvary, president of the Board.

Hungary, like Canada, is an agricultural country, Dr. Ujvary explained and the immigrants that are brought out here are all accustomed to farm work. "The farmers here, report to the Board the number of laborers they require and the order for that number is sent to Hungary," Dr. Ujvary said. Since the war, he explained, most of the Hungarians who came to this country were very poor and could not think of buying land at first. They were therefore placed on farms as laborers until they earned sufficient money to start out for themselves. Occasionally, the doctor said, a man came with some capital and wanted to start for himself on fortune on them, nothing seemed to stop him.

"Should be in every home" Says Mme. Villemaire

Three years of stomach and kidney disorders wrecked her health. Now fully recovered and feeling splendid, she thanks Tanlac

Mme. Elise Street, Ottawa, she is ready and robust, showing no signs of the distressing ordeal she went through for three years. "No words can express what suffering she has gone through. At times I thought my back must break, and I could not even stoop over to set the table."

"I used to boil terribly, and at times could hardly catch my breath. Never slept well at night, never slept the night. I tried many remedies and treatments but though I spent a small fortune on them, nothing seemed to help."

"I only wish I had taken Tanlac when my trouble first started for it certainly would have saved a lot of suffering. After taking it the trouble disappeared after taking it was almost magical. I built me up and made a new person. I am not afraid to go to another doctor, I am free from all pain and my digestion is splendid. If

Canada Offers To Newcomers A Splendid Opportunity To Achieve a State of Independence

Canada's offer to the people of Europe, and in fact to potential new citizens in any part of the world, is an opportunity to achieve independence on her lands. The Dominion does not claim that success is to be won in her domain with any less effort than elsewhere, but does maintain that the goal of absolute independence is within the reach of every individual stretching our sufficiently vigorously after it. Canada has always been known as a land of home ownership, and that to what extent this is true and the Dominion's ability to promise, is illustrated in statistical material which has been compiled by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics.

In contrast to nearly every other part of the world, followers of Canada's first industry of agriculture pursue their calling to a very large extent on farms of their own. The Dominion is signalized free from the disabilities which follow in the wake of an agricultural population with a large proportion of renters. Of all the farms in Canada at the time of the 1921 census, numbering 711,090, 615,180 were owned outright by those who lived upon them. This represents 86.5 per cent. of the total farming population. The percentage of farm owners is high in each of the provinces, being as follows:—Prince Edward Island, 95.6 per cent.; Nova Scotia, 96.1 per cent.; New Brunswick, 96.1 per cent.; Quebec, 94.9 per cent.; Ontario, 85.2 per cent.; Manitoba, 82 per cent.; Saskatchewan, 77.6 per cent.; Alberta, 80.3 per cent.; British Columbia, 86.3 per cent. In comparison with the above figures, the percentage of farms operated by renters in the United States was only 65.6 of the total in 1920, and the proportion shows a decline each decade.

It is not only upon farms that Canada's home owners are found, but 61.91 per cent. of all homes in the Dominion are owned by their inhabitants, and only 38.09 rented. Among rural dwellers the percentage of home owners is 78.50, and among urban dwellers, 46.06. The percentage of home owners is highest in Prince Edward Island, where it stands at 80.73 per cent., and lowest in Quebec, where it is 51.71 per cent. The percentages in the other provinces are as follows:—Saskatchewan, 75.01 per cent.; Alberta, 69.37 per cent.; Nova Scotia, 66.24 per cent.; New Brunswick, 65.26 per cent.; Manitoba, 64.77 per cent.; Ontario, 63.25 per cent.; British Columbia, 54.14 per cent.

The substantial proportion of home owners among the farmers of Canada is to be expected in a consideration of the facility of land tenure in Canada today in the general farm conditions, given towards farm establishment. It would yet be considerably larger did it include the large number who are gradually paying for their holdings on terms extended over a number of years and who are virtually farm owners. But the figures of home owners among the urban population are also gratifying, indicating that so large a proportion has its roots so definitely sunk. The home owner, the family man with such a stake in the country, is one who is there to stay, not to waver with the vacillation of prosperity.

Birds Invaluable to Farmer

People Should Be Taught Not to Destroy Them

It is a good thing at this season of the year to remind young people not to destroy the insectivorous birds which render such countless and invaluable services to the farmer and the world at large. In many parts of the country insects have caused grievous damage for some years, both to the forests and the harvests. We should therefore, pay all the more attention to the preservation of the birds which aid in the destruction of the insects which attack our crops and growing timber.

Interested in Plowing Matches

University of Saskatchewan Will Supervise Many Tests This Year

The growing interest in the proper use of agricultural machinery in Saskatchewan is manifest in the large number of applications for plowing matches and demonstrations which has been received by the department of agricultural extension, University of Saskatchewan.

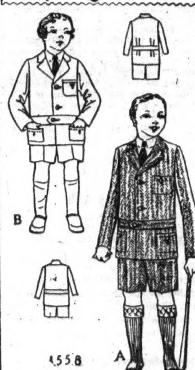

John G. Raynor, director of the department, estimates that approximately 30 matches or demonstrations will be held this year as compared to only ten matches during 1926. To date there are 19 applications on hand.

The demonstrations will be conducted by two members of the Agricultural Engineering Department of the University.

According to present arrangements the matches will be held from June 10 to about June 25.

Where matches are held one-half of the prize money awarded is given by the government in the form of a grant. The limit set by the government is $50 for each match.

Plans are being considered for bringing out to Alberta about 2,000 Hungarians who are working under disadvantages in their native country, and who are of a sturdy agricultural type. Two hundred reached Calgary early and were distributed to adjacent farms, being looked after by the Canada Colonization Association.

New Game Bird for Canada

"Cock of the Wood" Will Make Its Appearance If Ottawans Accept Estonian's Offer

Canada may have a new game bird if an offer which George van der Bellen, representative of the Government of Estonia, who visited in Ottawa in the course of a Canadian tour, made to the Federal authorities is accepted. "Cock of the Wood" hunting may take its place along with duck and deer and partridge shooting as the great fall pastime of the many Canadians who at that season of the year feel inclined to go out and kill something.

Mr. Van der Bellen, in behalf of his Government, offers to present a number of Russian "Cock of the Woods" to Canada with the idea that this bird will find its climate and other conditions to its liking and increase and multiply here. The "cock of the wood" is the largest member of the grouse family in the world, weighing from seven to seventeen pounds when fully developed, and it would not take many specimens of this bird to make a full day's bag for any ordinary almoner.

Mr. Van der Bellen is studying the problem of game conservation and is also investigating fur farming. This industry, he states, is developing rapidly in his country, and includes silver fox, farming the first animals for which were imported to Estonia from Canada.

Planning Big Muskrat Farm Near Winnipeg

Will be World's Largest If Enterprise is Launched

What will probably be the most extensive muskrat "farm" in the world will be established in Northern Manitoba. American interests with capital amounting to $100,000 have been "cruising" the country adjacent to Lake Winnipeg with the object of selecting suitable sites upon which options would be secured, the land leased or purchased and the enterprise launched. It has not yet been definitely established that the business will be gone on with, but if it is decided to go ahead production of many thousands of rat pelts per year would be probable. If a market could be found for the carcasses rat farming on a large scale would be less expensive. Rat meat is said to be good as rabbit, and some profess to have a liking for it, but it is doubtful if consumption in this country will ever reach large proportions.

Unfortunately a man's epitaph comes along too late in the game for him to live up to it.

In this world of strife a man must either be an anvil or a hammer.

It takes an exasperating speaker to talk fluently about nothing.

An Eighteenth Century Governor

The collection of paintings now hanging in the City Hall, Toronto, has been enriched by the addition to it of the portrait by Mourneur of General John Graves Simcoe, after whom the county of Simcoe, Ontario, was named, and who was the first Lieutenant-Governor of Upper Canada. His first capital was Newark (Niagara), and later York (Toronto). His government was notable for its efforts to open up the province by means of the building of roads and the encouragement of immigration and in many ways his policy was far-sighted.

The painting which was formally accepted by the Toronto Board of Control was offered by Sir Leicester Harmsworth, English baronet. It was brought over to the Dominion on Canadian Pacific steamship Montcalm.

The British Way Of Dealing With International Questions An Example To Other Nations

Idea Has Been Tried Out

Experimenters Prove Music Played at Milking Time Increased Yield

The astonishing observation that music makes cows and goats give increased quantities of milk is reported by two German physiologists, Dr. Nebert and Koch, says Dr. E. E. Free's "Week's Science" (New York) as follows:

It is not necessary to keep the cows or other animals in a continual environment of the concert. All that the experimenters need do is to arrange that music be played in the stable during the milking. The invariable result was that the animals being milked yielded more milk with music than without it. There is no record of the effect of different kinds of music; of whether jazz or classical opera possesses the highest milk-elevating properties. The observation was not entirely unexpected, for it has long been believed by scientific students of the way in which milk is produced that nervous stimuli have pronounced effects on this process. Although cows are not commonly imagined to possess highly strung nervous systems, it is known that things tending to excite them may interfere seriously with the yield of milk. On the other hand, it is probable that surroundings which calm the nerves and prevent fear or excitement are favorable to milk production. Although Dr. Nebert and Dr. Koch promise no practical application of the discoveries to dairy industry, it is probable that some enterprising farmer will try soon the effects of milking-time radio programs or of phonograph concerts on his milk-yielding stock.

of my foes."

The visit of the Duke of York to the Antipodes curiously has evoked a handsome dealing in the British way of dealing with aboriginal tribes. The address to his Royal Highness was one from the Maoris, with whom the British settlers were at war as recently as 1871, when final pacification was brought about and the Maoris were admitted to a share in the government. Since then the Maoris have developed into first-class citizens, their race being represented in Parliament and in the New Zealand Government. Sir Maui Pomare, a Maori Minister in the Government, took a prominent part in the honor paid to the royal visitors, and translated the address, which was read by Prime Minister Coates. The translation is a unique achievement, refreshing in phrasology when compared with the usual platitudinous compositions inflicted upon royalty or vice-royalty in more advanced countries. What could be more charming in its naive, characteristic eloquence than the Maori address thus translated?

"Three has Royalty deserved to honor our country to enter our humble houses and to walk among us. It's good. That is fulfilled the words we spoke to your Elder Brothers that those who govern this far-flung Empire should walk and talk with peoples in all its several parts and so understand and be understood of them. Come to them in the spirit of trust in which England appeals to the hearts of all races. Welcome, messenger of the era to be, when space and distance may be made of small account, and when words and works may encircle the globe as does the sun, so that no part of the Empire may brood in gloom and conspire evil. Welcome, second Duchess, bringing woman's peace. Woman's hands and tears soothed the wounds of a warring world. Now woman strives for the peace of God. Welcome, then, ye who embody the ever-recurring hopes of mankind for a State in which health, happiness, and prosperity shall prevail."

The Empire which can inspire a tribute like that of the Maoris is a long way from decadent. Not only in Asia but wherever the sun shines, Great Britain and the British Empire will for ages still be a force, benevolent and powerful, to be reckoned with.—St. Thomas Times-Journal.

Keep to Old Habits

English sheep, probably from the greater richness of the pastures, feed very much together. Scotch sheep are obliged to extend their tails for the better discovery of food. Yet the English sheep, on being transferred to Scotland, keep their old habit of feeding in masses, although so little adapted to the new surroundings. Their descendants will do the same. That is to say that the English sheep is not thoroughly naturalized into the necessities of a place till the third generation.

ALBERTA COAL QUESTION IS UP FOR DISCUSSION

Ottawa.—Confidence was expressed by Hon. Charles Stewart, Minister of Interior, during a debate in the House of Commons, that if the Board of Railway Commissioners found the cost of transporting Alberta coal to Ontario was not more than $7 a ton, this rate could be put into effect immediately, by Order-in-Council, without waiting for another session of Parliament.

The Minister agreed that to enable Alberta coal to successfully compete with American anthracite in the markets of Ontario, a $7 ton rate was necessary, and intimated that if the board found the cost to be greater than that, the Government would be prepared to grant assistance in order to make the transportation of a million tons a year of Alberta lignite into Ontario economically feasible. The government would take the same view in this matter as it had in granting assistance to the Maritimes.

The question of unemployment in the coal industry in Alberta was brought up by E. J. Garland, U.P.A., Bow River.

Hon. Peter Heenan, Minister of Labor, said he had received several telegrams with respect to the situation in Alberta. Immediately upon receipt of those communications, he had sent a man to the mining fields in that province to study conditions. Mr. Heenan assured the House that so far as he was concerned he was doing everything possible.

May Permit Canadian Stamps to Be Used in Future

Washington, D.C.—Prepayment in Canadian stamps of the special fee of 10 cents for the United States air mail service will be arranged for Canadians, if there is any demand for the service.

Discussing informally the extension of the U.S. air mail to Canadian mail master, Postmaster-General New stated here that he saw no reason why Canada could not give some arrangement whereby Canadian stamps could be used for the extra 10 cents postage on matter to be transported by air. At present, while the ordinary postage of two cents can be prepaid in Canadian stamps, it is necessary to buy United States stamps to prepay the extra fee. It is understood that Canadian authorities have not asked for such an arrangement. No figure could be obtained here as to the number of letters being sent by people in Canada by the air mail route which now operates from coast to coast in the United States and is said to save from one to two days on ordinary postal routes.

South African Flag Question

Basic Solution Believed to Have Been Found

Cape Town, South Africa.—The Cape Town Government newspapers welcome the report of the conference between the government flag committee and representatives of South African independent flag committees, as the basis of a solution of the flag question.

The opposition press, however, generally views the reports unfavorably, and strongly recommends the withdrawal of the flag bill this session.

The conference adjourned until May 19, with independent representatives leaving to secure approval of the new design presented by the government—a flag with the cross of St. George on a green background divided into quarters.

Japan May Send More Ships

Tokio.—Japan's huge fleet already in Chinese waters, is expected to be augmented soon by four more destroyers. Various vernacular newspapers are urging the government to assume a firmer attitude toward China, but the government is insisting on maintenance of its present attitude, although announcing that necessity may cause an alteration at any time.

Royal Competitors At Ottawa Show

Prince of Wales and Spanish Prince Are Sending Exhibits

Ottawa.—Heirs to the thrones of Great Britain and Spain will vie with each other at the world's poultry congress being held here from July 27 to August 4 of this year. H.R.H. the Prince of Wales recently announced his intention of exhibiting some live birds from his farm in Cornwall, England, and word has been received that H.R.H. the Prince of the Asturias, heir to the Spanish throne, intended exhibiting some poultry from his own poultry farm. The birds from the Spanish Crown Prince's farm will be the feature of the Spanish national exhibit.

Ernest Blundell, congress secretary, received word from Prof. Salvador Castillo, in charge of the poultry school at Arenys de Mar, Spain, that the Spanish nation's exhibit was being forwarded on May 15, and that the live bird exhibit would be sent via Cheung Kong on July 14. An exhibition is being held in Madrid on June 20 at which will be chosen the birds to represent Spain, in addition to those from the royal farm.

The Spanish government, which has taken three spaces in the congress exhibition, with a total coverage of sixty feet to depth of thirty feet, states that it is prepared to leave its exhibit in place for Central Canada exhibition. Twenty official delegates are coming from Spain.

Supplementary Estimates

Grants for Maritime Provinces as Recommended by Duncan Report

Ottawa.—Supplementary estimates for 1927-28 were tabled in the house by Hon. J. A. Robc.

The total is $1,618,261.12, of which $283,823 is chargeable to capital account, the balance $11,009,538.12 being chargeable to Consolidated Revenue fund account.

Provision is made for grants to the Maritime provinces pending consideration of provincial subsidies. Nova Scotia, $875,000; New Brunswick, $600,000; Prince Edward Island, $225,000; a total of $1,100,000, as recommended by the Duncan report. Flat increases for the civil service are provided in an amount of $2,700,000.

An amount of $500,000 is included for the purchase of land, buildings, equipment and furnishings for combined residence and offices for the Canadian legation at Washington, D.C.

A further grant of $50,000 is made towards expenditures in connection with the World Poultry congress to be held in Ottawa this summer.

There is $15,000 to provide for a trial shipment of Alberta domestic cattle to be made by rail and lake under the supervision of the Dominion Fuel board, provided one third of the total cost of the government is borne by other governmental, municipal and private organizations.

Start Anti-British Movement

Native Section of Shanghai May Declare Boycott

Shanghai.—A definite anti-British movement which may take the shape of a boycott similar to those recently declared at Canton and Hong Kong, was launched in the native section of Shanghai.

A great anti-British league was organized at a meeting attended by representatives of the Kuomintang (Chinese political party), the women's association, the Transporters Union of the International Settlements, the Telegraph Operators Union, students of the Shanghai University and others.

Work Should Be Divided

Vancouver.—That the building of vessels by the Canadian Government Merchant Marine for the new service to be inaugurated between Canada and the West Indies "should be divided proportionately between the Atlantic and Pacific shipyards" is the recommendation contained in a resolution passed by the Vancouver board of trade and forwarded to Sir Henry Thornton, president of the government line.

WAGE INCREASE IS SOUGHT BY C.N.R. EMPLOYEES

Bank Messenger Robbed

With Police Close By Bandits Escape With $13,000 in Cash

Niagara Falls, N.Y.—Two armed bandits held up and robbed Francis McMahon, messenger for the Canadian National Bank, in the main post office and escaped with about $13,000 in cash.

McMahon had just stepped from an armored car under police guard and entered the building when the men covered him with guns at the door of Postmaster Frederick G. Newell's office, took the bag of money he carried and sped away in an automobile bearing an Ontario license.

Of the 20,000 men, 18,000 are employed in various classes of work, including office clerks, passenger station employees, stores and stationery workers, shippers and stationers, engineers and firemen. They are seeking a $20 a month increase in pay for monthly rated men and 10 cents an hour for those working on hourly pay basis.

The remaining 2,000 employees are porter, sleeping and observation car service men. This class requested a 12 per cent. increase and a uniform wage schedule. At present they are working on four different schedules, the result of various amalgamations effected by the National system in the past few years.

Provinces Not Included In Government Grant

Appropriation for Diamond Jubilee Celebration is for Ottawa Program Only

Edmonton.—If Alberta wins in a diamond jubilee celebration of Confederation it will have to be at its own expense, according to an Ottawa ruling just received by the government. The appropriation by the Federal parliament is to be spent, it seems entirely by the Ottawa committee, for its own program. There being no intention to allocate any portion of the quarter million grant to the several provinces.

Miners Appeal For Relief

Ottawa.—An appeal from the miners of Leithbridge that the government take some action to relieve the situation there as a result of the mines being closed, was read in the House of Commons by Hon. Hugh Guthrie, Conservative leader. No action was taken on it.

Twenty Drown in Boat Accident

Tobago, Monday, May 20.—Twenty were drowned near Pusan, Korea, when an overburdened ferry boat capsized. There were 290 passengers on the boat. While a number were still missing, the authorities stated they believed the majority of the passengers were rescued.

Made Honorary Life Member

Vancouver.—Viscount Willingdon,

colonial general, was made an honorary life member of the British Columbia Institute of Journalists when he and Lady Willingdon were entertained by members of the institute.

Why Lambs Leave Home

Fifty-three mountain sheep left their native haunts at Banff recently, and were shipped by Canadian Pacific Express to their new home at Kamloops. The consignment, which was the result of a month's trapping operations carried on by the Royal Mounted Police warden, was made at the request of the government of British Columbia to restock local areas where the numbers of mountain sheep are depleted.

Attempts to trap wild sheep to the spot on the Banff Windermere highway, known as "Sheep Point" for the purpose of "shearing" Mr. and Mrs. Sheep will not notice that their flock of woolly friends has lessened. As a matter of fact, the sheep have increased so rapidly that the author-

NEW PROBLEMS ARE NOW FACING THE CANTONESE

Shanghai.—Serious reverses on the Yangtze battlefield and outbreaks of fierce tactical fighting at Shanghai and elsewhere between moderates and radicals are problems now facing the Cantonese, who only a few weeks ago were hammering northward in a definite threat on Peking, seat of the Northern government.

The factional controversy between the military and moderate wing of the Cantonese regime and the civil and radical wing, which has its seat at Hankow, rumbled for many weeks, flared into active conflict when plain clothes men, acting under direction of General Chang Kai Shek, Cantonese generalissimo and leader of the moderates, raided the headquarters of the Cantonese red labor unions in Shanghai, Hangchow, Ningpo and Amoy.

Fighting resulted and in Shanghai 12 persons were killed and many wounded in the various struggles. The raiders, armed with machine guns, pistols and bombs, attacked every union centre, in one case bringing up field guns to overawe 350 laborers. In one building about 600 laborers were arrested.

Similar raids were carried on in Hangchow, Ningpo and Amoy, although there was comparatively little fighting in the latter places.

Problems Of Smuggling

U.S. Prison Made Goods Finding Their Way Into Canada

Toronto.—R. Sparks, chairman of the Commercial Protective Association, of 1927-28, gave further evidence before the royal customs commission here. He dealt first with the importation of prison-made goods into Canada. This created a most "offensive competition," but no adequate system of prevention had been established. Last year said Mr. Sparks, $60,000,000 worth of prison-made goods had been produced in the penal institutions of the United States. As the labor organizations and other interests objected to the sale of these goods in the United States open market, a proportion of them found their way into Canada. This had been proven thoroughly at Rock Island, Quebec, said Mr. Sparks.

"What the preventive service needs is brains, and not brawn," declared Mr. Sparks, this morning. "An expert man, he believed, would do more to solve the problems of smuggling than an army of untrained officials."

The efforts of his organization were not directed against piracy smuggling, he said.

"But the man who, under cover of darkness, brings in a truckload of silk is a criminal," he declared. True, the petty smuggler broke the law, but his offense might not be regarded in the nature of a moral lapse, while that of the big commercial smuggler was a deliberate crime. The real deterrent was a jail sentence, not a fine, he said.

"What you recommend is rigid, swift, impartial enforcement of the law," interjected Chief Commissioner Brown.

"Yes," said Mr. Sparks.

Plans for H.B. Work

Usterbro, April 29.—Lt. T. A. Lockett, one of the Canadian Air Force, took off for Halifax in the first of six Fokker seaplanes purchased by the Canadian Government for extensive survey work on Hudson Bay and Hudson Strait. The other five machines are to be delivered before June.

Erecting New Wireless Station

Calgary.—Erection of one of the most powerful broadcasting stations in Canada, at Red Deer, Alberta, is announced by the Alberta Pacific Grain Company, which operates 455 grain elevators in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta.

Partial Agreement With Soviets

Paris.—The Soviet and French representatives have reached a partial accord on the question of the Russian debts to France. The Soviets propose in principle to pay an average of $9,000,000 gold francs annually for 62 years.

Where Steam Beats Air Speed

—Seeing the world from the rear of the Trans-Canada. —C.P.R.'s most powerful locomotive will haul the Trans-Canada. —75-hp. light the central route of the Rockies. —Open air observation car a feature of the mountain journey.

Bettering the air-mail record is carrying mail across the continent is not in the regular scheme of things for the Trans-Canada. The Canadian Pacific Railway has transcontinental trains. The fact of such an incident as we brought to mind through the announcement from headquarters of the Canadian Pacific that the Trans-Canada will again operate between Vancouver, Toronto and Montreal from the middle of May till about the end of September. Since the weather was made in the middle of last July and was unintentional. By a coincidence letters were forwarded to one of the officials in Vancouver by air mail and by rail. Trans-Canada both post offices stamped at approximately the same hours and date. From comparisons it was shown that the letter forwarded by train arrived about 30 hours ahead of the air route letter.

This is the 10th year of its operation, having won popularity among travellers from all parts of the world.

In planning the service instituted by the Trans-Canada, the officials of the company bore in mind many of the conveniences that afford comfort and convenience to the traveller. It takes this great train only 89 hours and 20 minutes to run between Montreal and Vancouver and about three hours less from Toronto. The schedule has been so arranged that the train arrives and departs from the principal business centers across the continent at suitable hours. The traveller who wished to make boat connections at Atlantic and Pacific ports have been kept in mind, and arrangements have been made with the Canadian Rockies who wishes to reach its beauty spots quickly and at convenient hours. In arranging the route the number of stops has been cut to a skeleton, making the journey all the more enjoyable. The train, with the exception of certain concessions to certain car passengers, carries only sleeping car passengers.

The route of the Trans-Canada is the trade of Canadian business, politics, science, fine arts and international funds in the province of Quebec via the route of the French explorers and fur traders in Ontario; round the north shore of the Great Lakes to Winnipeg, once the Fort Garry or the Hudson's Bay Company, then across the prairies which have not yet had time to echo with the warwhoops of the Sioux people. Indians around the Rockies v. —The members of Fraser, Mackenzie, Palliser and Rogers, and down at last to Vancouver, which was once furnished by the Hudson's Bay Company. The Trans-Canada links the whole.

One of the features of the company's most up-to-date equipment used on this train is the new locomotive of the 2-8-2 type, the 2200 class. This 3-4 type, the very latest model which will be used is the most powerful of the company's engines. The equipment is all-steel throughout, the standard sleepers being of the type which are usually appointed. In the compartment-observation car one can sit at ease and watch the whole panorama of the Dominion roll by. When the train comes into a mountain pass a special open air observation car is attached and in this one can gain an unrestricted view of the passing grandeur.

Here and There

Toronto capital will develop the only known blue talc deposits in Canada, the bed located about ten miles southwest of Banff. A private company, adequately financed, has been organized, and it is said that development operations will begin at once. White talc deposits are also found in association with the blue talc.

To replenish depleted British Columbia herds a carload of mountain sheep from the Banff National Park and another of elk from the Wainwright Park are being brought in to the province and will be released in the mountains near Spence's Bridge, according to M. B. Jackson, chairman of the Provincial Game Conservation Board.

In order to establish a model settlement just outside Winnipeg, a party of Catholic colonists sailed on the Canadian liner "Marloch" for Saint John and reached Winnipeg in charge of Father Keirford, of the German Catholic Immigration Association. The party consisted of about 30 families and came under the direction of the Canada Colonization Association.

Included in the programme of new construction in the Manitoba district of the Canadian Pacific Railway is the building of new standard station houses to be located at Uppala, Toulon, Petersfield, Kemnay, Alameda, Petropiece and Dominion City. New section houses will be built at sixteen points in the Manitoba district while a mechanically operated coaling plant with a capacity of 100 tons will be built at Poplar Point.

Saint John Nelson Christiananda, describing himself as a Christian Apostolic Preacher and originating from Southern India, arrived in Canada recently on the Canadian Pacific liner "Montrose" from England. He is a "Sadhu" which translated signifies a Sain and is conducting a short mission of about two months in Canada. Mr. Christiananda stated that he had been preaching through Europe and had visited about twenty countries on that continent. His creed, he asserted, associated with all Christian churches without being bound down by any dogmas. He said he was welcomed by all religious organizations.

A consignment of Canadian manufactured ice cream shipped from Saint John about the middle of last month featured the menu of a banquet tendered to over 400 British buyers by the Hon. C. P. Larkin, Canadian High Commissioner in London. On account of the large Canadian representation at the banquet the Commissioner ordered the cream through the Purity Ice Cream Co. in Montreal, and was handled during its 3,000-mile journey across the Atlantic by the Canadian Pacific Express Company. A ton of ice was packed aboard the C. P. liner "Minnetonka" to insure its arriving in perfect condition.

Details of the British Government's exhibit at the World's Poultry Congress, to be held at Ottawa, July 27th to August 4th next, have been received by the Congress committee. Heading the list of exhibitors from Great Britain is His Majesty the King, who has signified his intention of exhibiting pigeons, while H.R.H. the Prince of Wales is sending along some chickens from his famous farm in Cornwall. The British exhibit will consist of models of the poultry farms of Lord Dewar and Tom Barron, two of the best known poultry breeders in England. Hon. Mrs. Florence Amherst and St. Dunstan's Hostel for the Blind, are also participating. The British representation will include many technical features. Official British delegates to the Congress are Sir Francis Flou, permanent under-secretary to the Ministry of Agriculture and Fisheries, and Percy Francis Pou, Commissioner to the Ministry of Agriculture.

"Won't you spend your wife's time on me?" she challenged him. "What is it?"

He ignored her challenge for a moment while he lighted a cigarette, first offering her his platinum case. When he had evened his light to his satisfaction he went to the fireplace and dropped the burnt match into it. For another moment he puffed calmly. Then he turned to face the girl, who leaned back against the table in the corner of the room.

"Would you mind?" he asked, softly, deliberately, "telling me what is your secret of my character, please, but an expression of the quality of you, regard for me?"

She replied without hesitation. "I have always distrusted you, but I have never been convinced that I was justified. If I hadn't feared you, I'd have liked you. As it is I am afraid I despise you at times, because I know you are dishonest—dishonest with me and with Yvonne, who loves you. Is that the answer you want?"

"Not exactly, but it will serve. Suppose I should ask you to become my wife?"

"You used to tell me that you might do that, some day. I've always had an answer ready. I'd never marry you because I could never love you. If I could love you I wouldn't marry you because, by all the laws of decency, you belong to Yvonne whom you allowed to love you before you decided to laugh at her for her pretension that she would be worthy of you."

He examined his elegant flame, and then drew in its smoke.

"That establishes our position toward each other," he observed, and was silent for another interval. "But the situation is that you are going to marry me, not the less, because you have to."

She swayed. Her slender white hand went to her throat again. She knew he was not talking fully. She had gone through one sort of battle—with Kenilworth; now, she sensed, she was at the beginning of another, and in some unsuspected way, a more desperate one. She waited for him to stop.

He threw the cigarette into the fire, placed and faced her across the table. "It's about time to understand the sort of man I am about," he said, "and you have wondered where your money came from; you have wondered why it was given to you. I am about to solve for you, at least, a portion of your mysteries."

"I control the course of your money, I guard its secrets and its reason and its purpose. I am the one to whom you have made your accounting, the account you haven't known you were making in every whim, in every choice of the paths you have elected to follow!"

"Your accounting has been fully made. It is totaled up—by me I give mine. It is totaled up—by me. I give you now, the results. I demand that you marry me."

"I do not say that I love you, for I do not say that I respect you."

"I do not say, even that I respect you, for I respect you as you have professed to deserve me. I shoulder before all that you stand for; the abortive pretences of you, the shame of you, the deceit and cheapness of you."

"Yet I am saying to you that I want you, my wife."

Joanna had stood as if transfixed. Her eyes widened. The brown deepened to black. The scarlet of her lips became ashen. Her hands were hot with the scalding riot of her blood. Through her brain rang the one phrase: "I am the one!" And in its wake all those other sentences, sharp and bitter, that emerged from his lips like the crashing of canon on a battlefield, pierced her with the precision of a deadly fusillade. She collapsed into a chair and threw her hands before her eyes as if to shut out a vision.

But Brandon, moving over to her, went on cruelly, relentlessly:

"As I said, that is the new mystery for you to be baffled by. As my wife you shall keep your money; more money will be given you perhaps, and you shall, of course, share mine."

Now she gathered strength to stand. She made a little move as if to go up to him, but faltered. Her lips moved as if she were praying for words—words that would save her money, give her diamonds, give her luxury and pearls—said diamonds and princess fare—save them and, at the same time, save herself. But whatever her prayers, she heard no echoes of an answer. She turned to go out the door. Brandon, the torturing smile playing, now, about his lips, watched her silently, coolly, unmoved.

At the door she hesitated, stood for a minute leaning against the casement looking down into the ribald scene on the dance floor that blurred into a whirling black pool with monsters swimming on the surface.

Suddenly the little body stiffened. A bit of the brown came back into the eyes. Something of the ribald scene to the quivering lips. She swung around slowly and walked firmly back into the room until she stood so close to Brandon that her body was almost touching his.

"I want to keep my money, Francis," she said, her voice quavering but soft and ineffably pleading: "I couldn't do it without you. But I am very much in love with someone else."

"Very much in love, Francis. And it's the kind of love you would never understand. I don't understand myself. Nor does he—the man, I mean, that I'm in love with. You'll be kind to me, won't you? You'll tell me why the money was given me? You'll tell me what I've done that's wrong, so I can't do it again? It'll be anything you say, if I may have my money, the money that has made life so beautiful—with money and my love!"

"Anything I say?"

Before his sudden outbursting back at those pleading words, she shrank as if he had struck her. But again, she heard him saying: "You may not have lost your love, but I want it, I want, for reasons and purposes of my own, my—your love. I know the one you meant—I know the man to whom you've given the love that neither you nor I understand. Give it. Let him have it. Take him in return if you can win it. All of that shall be the bargain—a bargain of today!"

"The morals of today, you know, and the conventions, are not what they were in the yesterday. You are not the girl of yesterday, nor your kind of love the sacrament that it used to be.

"I am asking you to be my wife only. To give me yourself only. You may give your love where you want it to be received and take whatever pleases you in exchange. Surely you, who have played the game of love, will not shrink before the flame you very essence kindles!"

Deep colors came and went across her face. She closed her eyes, and then opened them slowly, to quickly shut them.

Cares of Responsible Position Crowd Out Intimate Associations

Premier Baldwin of Great Britain has joined the silent band of lonely men, announcing in a recent speech that with the passing of years he feels extremely lonely. Disraeli, Gladstone, Lincoln, Napoleon, Cromwell and Carlyle all voiced this sentiment. Milton was a lonely figure while writing his greatest works. These modern dictators, Mussolini and de Rivera, are pitiful in their loneliness, for the cares of state have crowded out of their lives cherished associations. — Kingston Whig Standard.

"The farce is over, as I said down stairs. The mystery of your marriage is dispelled—or you may count it as being dispelled. The other mystery, which must exist for a little while, is that despite the frailty of you, I want you to marry me."

"And if you do not, there will be no more money. All that you have will be taken from you—even tonight! Whichever is yours, now gained by fraud must be surrendered. You will be Mrs. Twenty-seven of the silks again, if your old job is still open to you."

"Are you by any chance still of the mind not to be my wife?"

The crumpled figure in the chair straightened a little. It tried to rise but sank down again. Its hands fluttered a bit. The girl looked at last,

"But I couldn't marry you! It could never be. I don't love you. I said: You wouldn't want me—without you are playing with me."

"Not playing; very earnest, and final, and definite," he assured her.

Occupies Enviable Position

Troubles Concerning Canada Small Compared to Those of Other Nations

Everywhere save in Canada there seems to be unrest and uncertainty. Such troubles as those which concern the Canadian people are indeed as nothing in comparison with those which afflict the older and more "congested" countries of the world. We have our little domestic squabbles, and our little sectional grievances, but they do not amount to much. It is many, many years since any great disaster has overtaken Canada. We have no volcanoes to fear, and all the minor earth shocks, that we feel have their origin thousands of miles away. We are at peace with our neighbors and with the world. We have all of the territory that we want and would not know what to do with more than that which we might acquire. We live in no fear of aggression and we do not require the services of a large standing army to maintain our frontiers.
